About Silverpeak

Silverpeak is an independent investment bank providing advice on M&A and financing transactions in the technology sector.

It serves the advisory needs of businesses operating in the technology sector, particularly companies at growth stage, both public and private, financial sponsors (typically private equity and venture funds) and corporates seeking to grow their business via investment or acquisitions, or manage their activity portfolio through spin-offs or divestitures.

Silverpeak typically works on M&A transactions, both selling & buying and larger financings involving international investors.
